REPORT OF STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Synopsis of Recommendation
Sent to the Antioch Village Authorities

VILLAGE WATER IS PURE

Under date of October 14, 1915, communications were sent from this village
to the office of State Board of Health,
making complaint of the present objectionable conditions due to the improper final disposal of sewerage.

In response to these communications
Mr. M. C. Sjöblom, assistant engineer, paid this place a visit on the 20 of October 1915, for the purpose of making an examination. His report in substance is given below:

Water—A sample of the water was collected for analysis at the time of the visit. The analysis indicates an excellent water for drinking purposes. All tests showed an absence of gas formers
and the bacterial counts were negligible. The results of the analysis indicate that the water is unusually soft,
and it is pronounced to be of excellent
sanitary quality.

Sewerage—Antioch has an excellent
water supply which is in fairly general
use throughout the village, its full use,
however, is seriously handicapped by
the absence of an adequate system of sewers. There can be no question that the lack of a sewerage system in Antioch not only constitutes a grave
nuisance, but it is a menace to the public health. There has from time to time been typhoid fever in Antioch and during the past year there has been an unusual number of cases. Inquiry into five cases occurring during the past summer failed to reveal any common
source of infection, nor was it possible
in any of the cases to ascertain with any degree of assurance the origin of the disease. It is a pertinent fact,
however, that sporadic cases of typhoid
of apparently obscure origin are very apt to occur in communities like Antioch, which are without an adequate system of sanitary sewers and while the cases that have been investigated can not be definitely assigned to this cause
owing to the impossibility of securing a complete chain of facts, it is more than probable that present unsanitary conditions constitute a factor.

An eight inch open joint tile discharging under a culvert on Main street
was installed some years ago to receive the surface flow from the main street
but has subsequently come to be used as a sanitary sewerage also. This latter use made of the sewer, as well as the improper disposal of sewerage at several other points throughout town has caused more or less nuisance, and complaints have followed.

One of the most objectionable spots
due to the improper sewage disposal is found near the creek at the north end of the business district within a short distance of the village school and several other buildings. Here the sewage from an unknown number of houses is discharged about 20 or 30 feet from the creek into a marshy grass covered bottom. Owing to the flat nature of the land here and the heavy growth of weeds
the wastes spread out over the ground
and in warm weather are said to be quite objectionable.

Two other private drain outlets are found farther south and some distance from the stream must of necessity be objectionable to those living nearby.
It was not known what homes these tiles were serving.

Another point of sewage disposal was found some distance west of the business district. Here a large flow said to consist of the water from a laundry and the wastes from several homes, is discharged about 60 feet or more from the creek where it forms an unsightly gray
pond, the overflow from which passes into the stream. Washwater from the laundry, apparently, makes up considerable of the flow. Considerable septic action was noticeable near the outlet. This outlet is about 250 feet from the nearest building and may, therefore, not create any definite nuisance, it is quite probable, however,
that complaint will sooner or later be made by the owner of the land on which the outlets is located.

The above statements are embodied in a lengthy report, received by the village board a short time ago, entitled
"A Report on Sewerage and General Sanitary Conditions at Antioch" and which bears the signature of Mr. Paul Hansen, Chief Engineer, State Board of Health.

COUNTY COURT CALL FOR TUESDAY ISSUED

Judge P. L. Parsons has made up the trial calendar for next week, commencing Tuesday. A venire has been summoned to hear the civil suits which will then be tried. On Thursday Judge Smiley of Woodstock will hear two cases, the parties asking change of venue from Judge Parsons are:

land.

Vernon—Frank Wells, Ben Ritzenthaler.

Deerfield—C. J. Thom.

DEATH OF SAMUEL ELLIS JOHNSON

At his home north of town last Friday occurred the death of Samuel Ellis Johnson, a well known and highly respected resident of the community.
He had been in failing health for more than a year, being a sufferer from dropsy. However he had not seemed any worse than usual until a couple of weeks before his death, when he was confined to his bed and from that time
on his decline was very rapid.

The deceased was born June 17, 1840
in the city of Chicago. March 16, 1863,
he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Walker. They made their home at Thornton, Ill., until the spring
of 1876, when they moved to the place
which has been his home for the past forty years. On the 23 day of February 1904, he was bereft of his life's partner,
one son Charles E. also passed away
about four years ago.

He is survived by two sons, Geo. E.
and James W. and one daughter Helen
N. all this place also two sisters, Mrs.
Geo. Shrand of Kingsberry, Ind., and Mrs. W. F. Hobbs of Chicago and two brothers Dr. Wm. Johnson of Radison, Wis., and Thos. S. Johnson of Chicago.

The funeral services were held at the home Monday afternoon.

Elgia Dealers Violate Food Laws

A dozen prominent grocers, several restaurant owners and thirty or forty farmers of Elgin and vicinity have been summoned before the Illinois food commission in Chicago to explain why they should not be prosecuted for violation of food laws. The majority of the grocers are charged with selling storage
eggs as strictly fresh, the restaurant
men were selling milk under standard requirements while the charges against the farmers is for skimming milk and selling milk which does not contain the proper proportions of fats and solids
and with maintaining unsanitary premises.

Willing to Help Him.

Bookkeeper (beginning his plea for a raise)—"I've grown gray in your service, Mr. Stone, and—" Newspaper Owner (interrupting)—"If you'll forward a self-addressed stamped envelope to our beauty column conductor, he'll send you an excellent and perfectly harmless remedy!"—Puck.

Toad's Weapon of Defense.

The common toad, branded by Shakespeare as "ugly and venomous,"
is popularly, but quite erroneously, supposed to spit poison. It can, however, when alarmed, eject from a large gland on each side of the head above
the eyes, a white, acid fluid, which will cause a dog to foam at the mouth
should he be so rash as to soloc oad.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE A SUCCESS

Large Gathering From Surrounding County and Instructive Speakers

LADIES ALSO INSTRUCTED

The Farmer's Institute, which held its first session here on Tuesday was largely attended, not only by farmer's of this vicinity, but by many from surrounding villages.

The morning was very largely attended, and was of short duration but the afternoon session showed four hundred present, and this numbers would have been double had it not been for so much sickness, throughout the community.

The afternoon session was opened by a vocal selection by E. L. Wald.
W. A. Harding was the first speaker who took as his subject the "Marketing of Milk or Sanitary Milk Production." He brought out many good points during his remarks which well received.

R. B. Swift, President of the Good Roads Association, then addressed the meeting and was loudly applauded for the many good points brought out.

W. E. Holden gave an address along the line of "Farm Crops" and endeavored to bring out the points of advantage in giving thought and attention to the selection of seed. His remarks were very instructive and were fully appreciated by the entire audience.

During the time that the masculine portion of the community were being entertained at the opera, house by the aforesaid mentioned speakers, Mrs.
Grey and Mrs. Hatch were giving some very interesting talks to a good sized gathering of ladies who had assembled at the M. E. church.

The dinner served by the Ladies Aid in the church dining room was well patronized and the ladies realized a substantial sum for their work.

Taking it all in all, the Farmer's Institute was a very interesting and instructive meeting, and it is hoped that Antioch may again be favored by being chosen as its meeting place.

Winter Tonic Free to Young and Old

Take plenty of the right kind of winter tonic and you will have little need of the time-honored spring tonic of your grandmother's day.

The best kind of winter tonic comes in the guise of out-of-door winter sports
for the principal ingredients in the tonic are fresh air, exercise and joyous-ness of spirit. Having a good time in the right environment is a great health giver. So get out your skates,
your toboggan, or your bob, dress
warmly and lightly and use your leisure
to make the wind, the cold and the snow
your friends and allies instead of hiding
away from them as much as possible and thus turning them into enemies to be feared. Don't let the children have a monopoly on the fun of sliding down hill. Slide down with the youngsters and convince yourself that you are not too old to have a good time with them.
It will be a good thing for your health
and the health of your family.

A Now Stuart

In a northern Wisconsin town several hunters have taken to raising guinea pigs and their friends never mistrusted
what they would do with them, but they knew. Now that the rabbit hunting is good they substitute a guinea pig
for a ferret and get the cotton-tails in large numbers. One fellow recently arrested for hunting with a ferret proved to the satisfaction of the court that he didn't hunt with a ferret and so was discharged.

How Hard Work Affects the Blood.

Recent experiments show that the number of red corpuscles, and therefore the oxygen-carrying capacity of the blood, are increased by labor sufficient to cause an appreciable amount of perspiration. If there is no perspiration there is no such increase.

Discouraging.

The woman who marries a man to reform him must be discouraged to see how much work one small specimen requires when an ova-gallat can arise and have them hitting the trail
by the hundreds.

MILLBURN MUTUAL ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Millburn Mutual Fire Insurance company was held at Millburn last Saturday afternoon. The usual routine of business was in order and the officers elected for the coming year were as follows:

President—John Bonner.
Secretary—J. S. Denman.
Treasurer—Harold Minto.
Directors—Ernest Davis, Geo. Mc-Cullough and David White.

At this meeting John A. Thain, who has served the company as secretary
for the past twenty-five years, made known the fact that he was no longer a candidate for the position and J. S.
Denman was chosen as his successor.
During the time that Mr. Thain has been secretary, the company under his direction, and the able assistance of the other officers has grown to be one of the leading mutual fire insurance companies of the state. He has worked hard for the company and its advancement and policies signed by other than John A. Thain will have a strange and unfamiliar appearance. In retirement Mr. Thain, has the knowledge that he has served long, faithfully and well
and what is more he also has the knowledge that his work has been fully appreciated.

Mr. Denman, the new secretary, is a progressive young man, fully capable of handling the task he has undertaken
and no doubt will be the means of leading the company to even greater achievements in the future than has been accomplished in the past. Should it so happen that his term of office may also number twenty-five years we predict that he will be able to look back over a record as clear, and full of satisfaction as that of his predecessor.

Another unusual feature of this meeting is the fact that no change whatever was made in the by-laws. As a usual thing some change is made each year, even though it be but slight, but this year no change whatever was suggested.

GOOD ROADS ASSN. TO MEET AT ZION CITY JANUARY 21st.

The next meeting of the Lake County
Good Roads Association will be held at Zion City on Friday, January 21, at 1:15 p. m.

An especially interesting program has been arranged for this meeting, including addresses by Mr. W. C. Edens, vice president of the Central Trust Company of Chicago chairman of the good roads committee of the Illinois Bankers' Association and president of the associated roads organizations of Cook county; Honorable A. D. Gash, president of the Illinois highway commission, an illustrated lecture on hard road construction and talks by Mr. C.
E. Russell, Lake county superintendent of highways, President R. B. Swift of our Lake County Roads Association, and others.

The board of directors of the Lake County Good Roads Association will meet at Zion City at 11 o'clock Friday morning, January 21, 1916. Matters of special importance will come before
the directors at that time and its importance requires a full attendance by all directors.

The wide-spread interest in the development of good roads for lake county
is creating active co-operation throughout county in the work of the Lake County Good Roads Association and a big attendance is expected at this Zion
City meeting.

Olson Camp R. N. A. Installation

The members of Olson Camp R. N.
A., held installation ceremonies at their meeting, Tuesday evening, with Neighbor Artie Grice, serving as installing officer and Neighbor Eva Kaye as ceremonial marshal. At the close of this service the retiring oracle, Neighbor Hattie Bregan, was presented with a set of silver knives and forks
and a hand painted plate, as a token of appreciation of her labors for the good of the order during the two years that she has held the highest office of the camp.

The entertainment committee had prepared a few amusements which caused no end of merriment. The refreshment committee did not shirk
their duty and treated all to a most appetizing lunch. At a late hour all departed feeling that the bond of goodfellowship among the members of Olson camp had been made much stronger by the few hours spent together.

Insists on Too Much.

The trouble with the man who blows his own horn is that he so often insists on being the whole orchestra.

that the ruling by the attorney general
in these matters will be adopted by the state and county election officials.

Obituary

Thursday of last week, marked the passing away of another one of the old settlers of this community, when Mrs. Susan Tiffany, a resident of this township for more than sixty years
succumbed to the ravages of a severe attack of pneumonia after an illness of a little less than a week.

From the first she was very seriously
ill and a trained nurse was procured,
a message was also dispatched to her son
at Chetek, Wis., who arrived on the earliest possible train. No hopes for her recovery were held out to the family who waged a hard though loosing battle to save her life.

Susan Crittenden, was born in Kent county, England, on the nineteenth day of August, 1841. When eighteen years of age she with her parents came to America and this township has been her home practically ever since. Sept. 21, 1860, she was united in marriage to Charles C. Tiffany, who passed away
July 29, 1905. To this union four children were born: A. N. Tiffany of this place and W. H. Tiffany of Chetek, Wis., being the only two left to mourn
the loss of a mother, the others who have gone before being Harry who died in infancy and Ida who died in 1900. Besides her two sons she is survived by thirteen grandchildren and many other relatives and friends.

The funeral services were held at the home Saturday afternoon and the remains were laid at rest in the Antioch
Hillside Cemetery.

Napoleon's Brother.

An interview with Napoleon's brother Joseph, from a hitherto unpublished manuscript, appeared in Harper's Magazine. It throws an interesting sidelight on Napoleon's directness of speech. Joseph was sent for by the emperor. "On my arrival," says the narrative, "being a man of few words and little ceremony, he abruptly said: 'I have sent for you,
Joseph, to make you king of Spain!'"

SHIELDS TOWNSHIP IS REMOVED FROM F. M. QUARANTINE

State officials believe the foot
and mouth disease has been completely eradicated from the state. The last herd to contract the disease were located at Libertyville. A dispatch from Springfield tells of the conditions as follows:

No foot and mouth infection has been reported in Illinois since December 1,
when a herd was slaughtered in Libertyville township, Lake county. Dr.
Dyson, state veterinarian, announced
as a result, the quarantined area in Fulton county has been released and that Shields township in Lake county,
which had been restricted, has been made free.

This means that practically all of quarantine has been removed from Lake county and that farmers
fairlymen once more will be able to pursue their business as they see fit
before handicapped by the clamping
of the ban.

When the last cases broke out in Libertyville it caused keen alarm all over the county for the fear existed
that the epidemic might break out again after having been in a quiescent manner for some time. The cattle were slaughtered, however, and the disease did not spread, much to the satisfaction of farmers in general.

Lake county farmers have lost thou-
ands of dollars as a result of the foot and mouth disease, not only in having their cattle slaughtered, but through being unable to carry on their regular business. It will be a long time before they can make up for the serious setback they have suffered.

MRS. DURAND DEMANDS $25,000 FOR SLAUGHTERED CATTLE

Mrs. Scott Durand, whose herd of Guernsey cattle were killed two months ago at her Crab Tree farm near Antioch, has been quarantined for foot and mouth disease went to Springfield, to appear before the agricultural committee of the house and senate.

An attempt is to be made to reach an agreement on the amount of damages
the state is to pay for the slaughtered animals. Mrs. Durand demands the full amount allowed by law, $250 a head.
The animals have been appraised at $211, which makes a difference of about $2,275.

After Mrs. Durand had conferred with Senators Barr and Olson, Representatives Dudgeon, Kessinger and Gregory and Chairman Shanley and Dr.
Dyson of the live stock board it was apparent that she had about won her point and it was believed she would receive the full amount she asks. This would give her $22,500 of which the state pay half and the federal government the other.

Mrs. Durand announced she had lost all heart for the dairy business and declared she never would go into it again. She showed letters from Guernsey cattle experts who had valued her herd at more than $100,000.

While she has decided to retire from the dairy business she declared she would devote much of her time in futuro
to fight for a federal and state law
that would be more equitable for the dairy interests in the event of further epidemics of foot and mouth disease.

Sets New World's Record

The four-year-old Guernsey cow,
"Polly's Beauty" 37078, owned by C. C.
Allen of Kenosha, which recently finished her official year's work, has broken
the world's record for Guernsey cattle
of her division, by producing in 365 consecutive days, 16,629.80 pounds of milk
or 125.90 pounds in excess of the former leader. As a butterfat producer
she stands third by making 774.40 lbs.
butterfat, equivalent to 908.46 pounds
commercial butter.

Message Takes up Cattle Disease

The governor's message was read to both house at noon Tuesday. It was not a lengthy document. He first asked for the passage of a law appropriating $167,851 to discharge the obligations of the state contracted in an effort to eradicate the foot and mouth disease in Illinois. In so doing Governor Dunne reviewed briefly the two outbreaks of the epidemic.

He asked for a law governing the sale of anti-hog cholera serum, and virus and putting those sales directly in the hands of the state government. He pointed out that the last foot and mouth epidemic was caused by the sale

of serum infected with the disease
germs.

Violent Temper Inherited.

In two-thirds of the cases of violence studied by Charles B. Deport this was clearly inherited.

FALL IN FIGHT QUIT AT GALLIPOLI

TRIFIC BATTLE RAGING ON THE BESSARABIAN FRONT.

RUSSIANS CONTINUE DRIVE

Fighting Between Slavs and Bulgars for Possession of Czernowitz and Cernowitza—Bit of the Struggle of War.

London, Jan. 12.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Saloniki says that a flotilla of French aeroplanes has dropped bombs on Sofia, causing considerable damage and an indescribable panic among the inhabitants of the Bulgarian capital.

The struggle for possession of Czernowitz and Cernowitza are continuing with unabated ferocity over the Russian Christmas holidays. The efforts of the Germans to outflank the Russians at Czernowitz, on the frontier east of Czernowitza, and thus relieve the pressure on the latter place has been checked by the Russians, according to reports from the front.

The fighting occurred in the vicinity of Czernowitza on the several occasions when the town has changed hands. At present the Russians appear to be in possession of the place.

The Petrograd official communication says that the fall of the Czernowitza front is due to the huge losses and resulting demoralization of the Austro-Hungarian army. That there is some basis for this statement is seen from the estimate of the Hungarian newspaper, Poste Lloyd, that the losses on both sides of the Bessarabian battles so far exceed 175,000, or more than the total British losses in the whole Dardanelles campaign.

Another Hungarian newspaper states, on the authority of a staff report, that the fighting on this front has been the bitterest and bloodiest in the history of the war, both sides sacrificing men in a manner without parallel.

Czernowitza (Bukowina) is still in the possession of the Austrians, and is filled with wounded. But the Russians apparently are directing their main attacks against Sadagora.

In the Balkans reports persist that the Germans are concentrating at Constantinople preparatory to an attack on Saloniki.

2 QUIT PROGRESSIVE PARTY

Frederick Landis of Indiana Tells State Chairman Hays to Enroll Him as Republican.

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 12.—Rudolph G. Leeds on Monday confirmed the report he had resigned as national committeeman and has quit the Progressive party.

Frederick Landis has quit the Progressive party, according to a letter received at Indianapolis from the League of Nations secretary by Will H. Hays, Republican state chairman. "In order that your poll book may be accurate in this respect, I wish you to enroll me as a Republican," he wrote.

Mr. Landis was one of the original Progressive leaders in Indiana. He was nominated for lieutenant governor and ran with Albert J. Beveridge, who was the nominee for governor.

WOMAN SHOTS JOLIET MAN

John Robert, President of Welding Works, Probably Fatally Injured by Enraged Girl.

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 12.—John Robert, president and chief stockholder of the Robert Welding works, was shot and probably fatally wounded in his office by Lillian Piper Ogden on Monday. The young woman, who was twenty-four years old, then turned the revolver with which she had committed the deed upon herself and fired a bullet through her right temple. She died instantly. On the undershirt of the slain girl was pinned a note which divulged the motive for the tragedy. It read:

"The wages of sin is death. I have been horribly wronged. Notify my father, William Ogden of Richmond, Va."

SLIGHT HOPE FOR HUERTA

Physician Finds Patient is Growing Weaker While Reaching the Critical Stage.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 12.—Slight hope for the recovery of Gen. Victoriano Huerta remained on Monday when his physician, Dr. M. P. Schuster, stated the patient was gradually losing strength and that his illness had reached a critical stage.

Paris, Jan. 12.—The Italian animal sculptor, Rembrandt Bugatti, was found unconscious in his studio in Rue Joseph-Bara. A gas burner in the studio was turned on. Bugatti was taken to a hospital, where he died.

Wilson Sends His Regards.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 12.—Because of an engagement in Washington on the evening of February 11, President Wilson informed Governor Duane he will be unable to attend the annual Lincoln banquet on February 12.

PENINSULA COMPLETELY EVACUATED BY ANGLO-FRENCH FORCES SAYS GEN. MONRO.

ONLY ONE BRITON WOUNDED

Official Report Issued in London Says That Difficult Task Accomplished With Aid of Navy—Greatest Defeat of War for the Allies.

London, Jan. 11.—Sir Charles Monro reported on Sunday that the Gallipoli peninsula had been completely evacuated by allied troops.

All but 17 guns were embarked. They were blown up. The casualties were one wounded. There were no casualties among the French.

General Monro states that the successful accomplishment of this difficult task was due principally to Generals Birdwood and Davies. Invaluable assistance was rendered in the operation under the greatest difficulties by Admiral Deltorbeck and the navy.

Amsterdam, via London, Jan. 11.—The British as a result of a violent battle have completely evacuated Seddul-Bahr, with great losses, says a dispatch from Constantinople. Not a single man remained behind.

The dispatch adds that newspaper reports from the Dardanelles say the Turkish troops have completely driven the French and British from Seddul-Bahr, and that Gallipoli peninsula "is now clear of the enemy."

A semi-official report from Constantinople, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company, claims "the capture by the Turks of a great enemy camp and nine guns, and the sinking of an enemy vessel with troops near Seddul-Bahr."

While this move had been expected in some quarters, in others it had been believed that the Anglo-British force was to be left at the southern extremity of the Turkish peninsula "to keep the Turks bottled up."

When the retreat of December 21 took place the war office let it be understood that enough troops were left on the peninsula to carry out successfully a renewal of the offensive against the Turks when the time was propitious. From this announcement it was understood that the troops were not to be withdrawn.

Therefore the war office's announcement adds the final chapter to what is generally conceded to have been the greatest defeat of the war—a defeat that has cost Great Britain alone more than 100,000 men, six battleships, millions of money and the reputations of several military and naval leaders. The French also have lost heavily in men and sacrificed a battleship. In the futile effort to force a way to Constantinople.

SIX NEW HAVEN MEN FREED

Other Five Face New Trial at New York—Verdict After 31 Hours.

New York, Jan. 11.—Six of the eleven defendants in the New Haven directors' trial were acquitted on Sunday. The jury disagreed as to the other five, including William Rockefeller. On the final vote regarding them the jurors stood 8 to 4 in favor of acquittal. R. L. Bates, chief of the government counsel, stated that they will be retried as soon as possible. The acquitted were: D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, James S. Henshaw, A. Heaton Robertson, Frederick F. Brewster and Henry K. McHarg. The ones against whom the indictment still stands are: William Rockefeller, Charles F. Brooker, Charles M. Pratt, Lewis Cass LeMay, and Edward D. Robbins. The jury was out 31 hours.

FIRE IN U. S. BUILDING

Flames Cause $2,000 Damage in State, War and Navy Structure at Washington.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Fire on Wednesday night caused $2,000 damage in the basement of the state, war and navy building. Stories of incendiarism were circulated, but officials said, after investigation, spontaneous combustion generated in a pile of old rags, started the blaze. Priceless papers, including the original copies of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, are stored in the building. It is separated from the White House by only a narrow street.

BRITISH WARSHIP SUNK AGAINST DRAFT BILL

KING EDWARD VII SENT TO BOTTOM, BY MINE.

Battleship of 15,350 Tons Abandoned With No Loss of Life—Two of Crew Injured.

London, Jan. 8.—H. M. S. King Edward VII, a battleship of 15,350 tons displacement, struck a mine and owing to the heavy sea was abandoned and sank within a short while, the official press bureau announced here. The ship's company was rescued with no loss of life. Two of the men were injured.

The Edward VII was of a class of eight ships laid down in 1903-4 and completed in 1905-6. She carried a complement of 777 men, officers and men, in peace times. Her guns were four 12-inch, four 9.2 inch, 10 6-inch, 12 12-pounders, 12 three-pounders and two maxims besides five torpedo tubes submerged. Her length on the water line was 439 feet, her beam 78 feet and draft 27. Her best recent speed was 19 1-10 knots. Her sister ships are the Commonwealth, Dominion, Hindustan, Zealandia, Hibernia, Africa and Britannia.

FREAR FIGHTS PORK BARREL

Wisconsin Representative Attacks Effort to Put Through Big Rivers and Harbors Appropriation.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Pork barrel river and harbor appropriations were denounced in vigorous terms by Representative Frear of Wisconsin, who resumed his fight in the house against waterway improvement legislation. He particularly attacked the effort to put through the present session of congress river and harbor appropriations aggregating about $46,000,000.

"The country has no waterway policy present nor prospective," said Representative Frear, "but only a political pork barrel steered by a powerful lobby, now actively at work in Washington; a lobby that causes us to waste many millions of dollars of public funds annually on useless or private projects, some of which are not even distantly related to commerce or navigation."

3 PERISH IN BLAST

DU PONT POWDER PLANT AT CARNEY'S POINT, N. J., BLOWN UP BY ACCIDENT.

DYNAMITE PLOT IS DENIED

Accident Happens About Midnight—Only Few in Building—Federal and Local Authorities Probe Riots at Youngstown, Ohio.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 10.—Three men were blown to bits by an explosion in the glazing plant of Mill No. 1 of the Du Pont Powder company at Carney's Point, N. J. The structure, a small building, was completely shattered. The three men killed were the only ones working there at the time. Early rumors had the death list running as high as forty-three and said that scores had been injured, but it was officially announced here that only three had been killed and none injured.

An official of the Du Pont company stated that the explosion was undoubtedly accidental and denied reports that a number of suspicious characters had been arrested after the blast.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 10.—The investigation by both federal and mining county authorities into mob violence at the plant of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company last Friday, when two persons were killed, many wounded and a million dollars' worth of property destroyed, took a new turn when County Detective Kane said that two Austrians in the county jail here have made confessions in which they said they were sent here from New York to start the strike so as to prevent the manufacture of war munitions for the allies.

The men are Dan Flock and John Brisky. They gave their address as 8 English square, New York.

Four hundred strikers who took part in the riot on Friday night were arrested by the state militia and deputy sheriffs.

The backbone of the big strike at the mills of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company is apparently broken. Hundreds of strikers returned to work, all apparently in a good mood, when the big mill whistle sounded Monday morning.

Following the decision of the company officials to open the mills, Brig. Gen. John C. Speaks, in charge of the two thousand Ohio National Guardsmen on duty there, withdrew all of his soldiers from the property of the company.

STOP EATING MEAT IF KIDNEYS OR BACK HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Clean Kidneys. If Bladder Bothers You—Meat Forms Uric Acid.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Adv.

Perseverance Rewarded.

A prominent writer, who likes a drop of two with his meals, goes occasionally to a cafe on Broadway for luncheon. He makes a point of sitting at the same table whenever possible, so that he has become fairly well acquainted with the waiter in charge of that table. This particular waiter is one of the few in New York where the waiters are colored men.

The other day he slipped into his favorite place and reached for the menu. In an instant the waiter, whose name is Gabo, was hovering over him.

"I suppose you want a little Scotch and water to start off with?" said Gabo, remembering mightily well his patron's habit.

"No, Gabo," said the patron; "no Scotch today. I've finally found the kind of liquor that suits me."

"Well, huh," said Gabo in tones of honest admiration, "you suttinly kept on twoll you found it, didn't you?"—Saturday Evening Post.

"Alhem! That's absurd. I—er—Who have you been running with, anyhow?"

PUZZLED

Hard, Sometimes, to Raise Children.

Children's taste is oftentimes more accurate, in selecting the right kind of food to fit the body, than that of adults. Nature works more accurately through the children.

A Brooklyn lady says: "Our little boy had long been troubled with weak digestion. We could never persuade him to take more than one taste of any kind of cereal food. He was a weak little chap and we were puzzled to know what to feed him on."

"One lucky day we tried Grape-Nuts. Well, you never saw a child eat with such a relish, and it did me good to see him. From that day on it seemed as though we could almost see him grow. He would eat Grape-Nuts for breakfast and supper, and I think he would have liked the food for dinner."

"The difference in his appearance is something wonderful."

"My husband had never fancied cereal foods of any kind, but he became very fond of Grape-Nuts and has been much improved in health since using it."

"We are now a healthy family and naturally believe in Grape-Nuts."

"A friend has two children who were formerly afflicted with rickets. I was satisfied that the disease was caused by lack of proper nourishment. The children showed it. So I urged her to use Grape-Nuts as an experiment and the result was almost magical."

"They continued the food and today both children are as well and strong as any children in this city, and, of course, my friend is a firm believer in Grape-Nuts for who has the evidence before her eyes every day."

FROM A NURSE IN WARRING GERMANY

MISS KATHRYN ROTH-

BANKER'S DAUGHTER.
TELLS OF EXPERIENCE
IN COUNTRY RESET BY GREAT CONFLICT. SHE WAS ATTACHED TO AN AMERICAN RED CROSS HOSPITAL.

SHE TAUGHT
WOUNDED
SOLDIERS TO SPEAK ENGLISH

IN July, 1914, I left America to travel abroad on pleasure. I had as little idea of the coming war as anyone else, and even when the clouds swept dark across the horizon, I did not really believe the storm would break.

We arrived in Bad Kissingen on the day before the troops were mobilized. People stood in excited groups, Germans were preparing to leave for their homes, while Russians and other foreigners were wondering what would become of them if it came to war. The mobilization proclamation came the following day and suddenly, on a Sunday, war was declared.

Disarm and consternation were written upon every face. The strung tales of other wars came flooding to our minds, and we conjured up a thousand thoughts of hunger and discomfort. We were sure that within a few days not an able-bodied man would be left at home. Quite naturally we did not anticipate the systematic regulation which eliminated all danger of famine in spite of the proclaimed food blockade, nor did we know that an army is so organized that millions of strong young men are not called into the service until absolutely needed.

Bad Kissingen was the gathering place for the reservists from all the surrounding countryside. Early Sunday morning the troops came pouring in. They assembled in the famous Kurgarten and in place of the usual gayly dressed throng there were now thousands of stern-looking men in rough clothes. Here they were soldiers in name only, for they wore uniforms, guns, and other equipment awaited them at Bamberg an hour distant.

In the larger cities where fully equipped soldiers leave for the front it is a most inspiring sight to see them march away to the strains of military music, their caps and tunics bedecked with flowers. Here in this little country town the sight was not thus inspiring. It was only inexpressible sad.

Most of the men were accompanied by their wives and sweethearts, and had come to bid a farewell which portended would be the last. Nothing has impressed me quite so much as the Spartan way in which these German women say good-by to their men.

I have seen the soldiers leaving for the front from town and city, in companies or by twos and threes, and I have never seen a woman shed a single tear until her husband, son or lover had vanished from sight.

It is not that they do not realize to the fullest extent the danger their men go off to face—alas, they know that full well—but they seem to feel it their duty to make the parting as cheerful as possible. So dry-eyed and smiling, they wave their handkerchiefs until they can see no longer.

For two weeks Kissingen assumed quite a military character. The men came straggling in and their short stay was made as comfortable as possible by liberal portions of hot coffee, cigars and chocolate. Then the mobilization ended and the town settled down to a strange quiet, a quiet that seemed more menacing because we realized so acutely that in France, Belgium and Russia the cannons were thundering and men were falling by the thousands.

I shall never forget the sultry, quiet weeks I spent in Kissingen during the summer of 1914. The days dragged by, one like the other, except for the preparations which were being made to care for the wounded when they should come. Some of the hotels were turned into hospitals and everyone—I as well as the rest—sowed all day long on garments and bandages. Mails came irregularly, and newspapers, too, arrived at odd intervals, because the trains were being used for the transportation of troops. Even when news came of the fall of Liege and Brussels, there was little excitement. It was only when the Bavarian crown prince won a victory near Metz that the people forgot their calm and cheered and wept for joy.

On September 1 I arrived in Munich, the Bavarian capital. The life here was as different as could be from that in Kissingen. The streets and cafes were crowded, the theaters and museums all open. Orchestras played popular music. Singers sang comic songs. One would never have realized that a war was going on, had it not been for the yellow telegrams pasted on the bulletin boards and for the throngs of soldiers.

The city swarmed with men in gray. And the remarkable part of it all is that one sees just as many soldiers now as one did a year ago last September. There are soldiers everywhere—in the streets, at the theaters, in the cafes—strong, healthy-looking men, some of them already decorated with the Iron Cross.

After a week or so of aimless sight-seeing, my conscience began to trouble me. I felt it was wrong to stay idle in these earnest times, so I set about to find some occupation. I started in service at a day nursery, where poor children were taken care of while their mothers were at work.

All the children are delightful, and these were no less so than the average; but sad to relate they spoke a Bavarian dialect that was impossible for me to understand. They in turn did not recognize as German the language I spoke, so we decided that I was no success as a disciple of Froebel, and I started to search for a new field of activity. I found what I sought at the American Red Cross hospital, and soon began my work there.

I should like to be able to say that at once I attained the dignity of a cap and apron, but I did not, because I had even less than the average knowledge of nursing. I really started as an errand girl. I shopped, carried out propaganda, and made visits in order to interest people in the good work. I chatted with Geraldine Farrar, was respectful to Countess von Bernstorff and visited enough titled people to set my democratic head awhirl.

The next step in my hospital career was when I began to do a little social work, and soon afterwards I received my uniform and came more in contact with the work of the hospital proper. My special department was the provision room, where the food and other luxuries that the regular commissariat did not carry were kept. I was the mistress of the key to the wine cellar and also looked after the clothing with which we supplied the men.

There was nothing too menial for me to do, and I was glad of every opportunity for service. I still have a mental photograph of myself scrubbing the floor and cleaning windows, not to speak of darning the biggest holes that I ever saw in socks. In December we received a huge shipment from the American Red Cross society, and we had so many boxes and bales of clothing, comforts, and cotton, that we decided to give the surplus to the German Red Cross. The Bavarian queen, as its official head, came to inspect our supplies. She was a little, wrinkled old lady, who smiled most amiably when we made our court curtsies and who was very grateful for our timely gift.

Christmas came and went. We thought of the men in the trenches and prayed for peace. But, in spite of the war, I enjoyed every hour in Munich, and a large share of my pleasure I owe to the musical advantages the city offers. Performances of the opera and concerts are being given at reduced rates on account of the war.

MISS ROTHSCHILD

but the talent remains up to its old standards, and one can hear a truly fine production of an opera for seventy-five cents or a dollar.

Towards the end of January I left Munich and made a journey to Italy. Though Italy was not involved at the time, one noticed the war more here than in Germany. People were poor and discontented, banks failed, one after the other; a declaration of war against Austria was expected daily, and everyone was in a troubled frame of mind. It took twenty days for letters from Germany to reach me. I could not stand the uncertainty and hastened back to Munich after a scant two weeks' absence.

After my return I worked harder than ever at the hospital. None of the cases under our care was serious, and as several of the men desired to learn English, the superintendent of nurses asked me to take charge of some classes. I had one class of beginners and one of more advanced pupils, and I can truthfully say I never enjoyed anything more than these English lessons I gave at the American Red Cross hospital.

I wasn't a very dignified teacher—one can't expect a nineteen-year-old girl to put on spectacles—but my pupils liked me and they learned a bit. However, even the English lessons did not furnish enough work to satisfy me. So after much coaxing I received my official Red Cross uniform and became what is called in German a "Helferin," or assistant nurse.

I worked early and late among these wounded soldiers and found a great deal of pleasure in the work. It was a revelation to note how much they were so grateful for every bit of care, and at times when I found myself downcast they always seemed to know the right thing to do and say.

After almost a year of this work, I took a rest and went first to Vienna and then to Moribund. I found the latter resort in strange contrast to the Kissingen of the year before. Moribund was full of people and almost gay. There was no dancing, of course, but there were social affairs, concerts and tombolas, where a game similar to our lotto is played. In addition one saw women as beautifully gowned as the Parisiennes at her best.

And here, also, as well as in Munich, we found the same astonishingly large number of men. I used to wonder where they all came from. We got back to Munich just in time to see a parade in honor of the king, and if I had not seen it with my own eyes I should never have believed it possible that so many good soldiers could be lost after more than a year of war.

As the time for our departure drew near my heart grew heavy. I was happy at the prospect of seeing America and my American friends again, but I had grown to love Munich and its people.

A Pampered Pet.

"How so?"
"The critter takes a prominent part in concerts given in folk circles."
"Well?"
"And dinged if my wife ain't talking of having its voice trained."

His Order.
"What do you suppose the regimental surgeon said when he gave the order for vaccination?"
"Easy. 'Present arms.'"

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

No Law Forbids Spies to Sketch Our Defenses

WASHINGTON.—The United States has no law which prohibits spies of foreign countries from making sketches, photographs and plans of the appearance of fortifications and the topography of the land surrounding them, in time of peace, it was pointed out by the department of justice the other day. In time of war martial law prevails as to the treatment of foreigners or agents of foreign governments engaging in such occupations.

Any person in the government service giving out information regarding the interior of fortifications may be punished by law and any private citizen who makes drawings or pictures of the interior of fortifications may be apprehended, but so far as the outward aspects of forts are concerned, spies of any country are welcome to all the information they can get under present laws.

This state of affairs is regarded by some persons as especially dangerous with relation to aviation fields. A foreign spy could make complete plans of aviation fields of the United States government, showing where hangars and other buildings are situated without violating any existing law. It has been suggested that congress this winter make some provision for more adequately protecting American military secrets from foreigners, and this idea may be incorporated in national defense legislation.

Annual Animal Social Register of Washington

THE annual animal social register of the United States government has appeared. Only about fifty names were added to those listed in any blue book of the genus hore, and not even the state department's diplomatic list is censored by the chief justices of the United States Supreme court, not to mention a vice president, members of the senate, and private citizens of national note.

When that grave scientific body, the Smithsonian regents, with Chief Justice White as their chancellor, assembled in Washington they received the annual report of the National Zoological park. That report contains three pages of itemized animals at the park (called by proletarian humans the "Zoo"), and each animal therein is mentioned by name, and the state of health of many of them is reported upon.

The document contains much chatty comment, not to mention a birth register, of our most elite zoological families. Other mere "zoos" may get into reports, but are not printed at the government printing office, and stamped with any such high approval as that of the Smithsonian regents.

Social affairs at the Washington zoo during the last year became vastly more cosmopolitan, it appears, though no less exclusive, because of the advent of Mrs. Diamond Mattlesnake, whose jewels dazzled the horsemens at the Snake Cage opera. Mr. Great Horned Owl added much zest to the night demand at the afternoon musicales (given when animals are fed at 3:30).

At every first night, especially when Miss Silver Pheasant sang, was old Mr. Bald Eagle, and he caused much gossip among the older set by his attentions to the petite Miss Grass Parakeet. Likewise there was much whispering behind fins and wings when Mr. Black Snake, a villainous-looking gentleman, arrived in company with Miss Barred Owl, a beauty of the sleepy oriental type.

Washington Man Owns Famous Maximilian Opal

EVER since the late Gen. Marc Antony, triumvir of Rome coveted an opal owned by a senator of that empire, who prized the stone so highly that he left Rome rather than give it to Antony to carry around to Cleopatra, opals have been more or less in the limelight of dynasties, emperors and nations.

Today there walks about the streets of Washington a man who can reach into his left-hand vest pocket, if he will, and show you the dazzling, opalescent gem, famous in Mexican history as the "Maximilian opal." The man is Herbert J. Browne, whose hobbies include sailing boats, the single tax, and collecting opals.

This particular opal came Mr. Browne's way because he got three shiploads of ammunition to General Carranza's agents in time to turn the tide in favor of the constitutionalist cause.

The Maximilian opal, as famous among these versed in historie gems as General Miramon, his chief of staff, and was found on the body of the latter chapter in the romantic history of the empire of Mexico.

In the early summer of 1914 New York papers carried a little item to the effect that "some of the ammunition" which is being supplied General Carranza is being taken out of Galveston on vessels chartered by someone who newspaper man.

Herbert J. Browne's abilities as a skipper, it would seem, were not even known to his friends in the newspaper business. But it was he who, in his destination, and when he reached open water turned their prow toward Mexico.

White House Collection of China Is Notable

ONE of the most interesting pieces in the White House collection of presidential china is an old plate recently given by Miss Mary Custis Lee, daughter of Robert E. Lee. This plate is one that was used by George Washington, and aside from being of inestimable value historically, is of greater value than any other piece in the whole collection. It is a dinner plate of the well-known and famous set usually referred to as the "Chestnut" china.

Miss Lee came into possession of it through her maternal grandfather, George Washington Parke Custis, whose grandmother, Martha Washington, willed it to him. The presentation of this historic piece was made to Miss Margaret Wilson for the collection.

The White House collection of presidential ware is one of the most interesting historical collections in the country, and an interesting story is attached to the acquisition of every piece of it.

The collection was begun with parts of sets of dinner services found in the lower east corridor of the mansion, which were designed by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt.

Eight shelves were filled with china used during the Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Arthur, Harrison, Cleveland, McKinley and Roosevelt administrations. This original collection has been augmented by gifts from descendants or friends of the various presidents until it now fills four cabinets and approaches completion.

One shelf is filled with pieces from the state dinner set which Mrs. Roosevelt ordered, and which is still used as the state set. It is of beautiful Wedgwood, decorated with a simple colonial pattern in gold and the obverse of the great seal of the United States enameled in colors on each plate. This set contains more than twelve hundred pieces.

WESTERN CANADA'S GREAT HARVEST

Decidedly Encouraging From Every Standpoint.

Speaking of conditions generally in Canada, the most encouraging feature of the year, from a trade and financial standpoint, has been the bountiful harvest of the Northwest, where a greatly increased area under cultivation has given the highest average yield in the history of the country. It is estimated that the grain crop of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta has a market value to the producers of approximately four hundred million dollars, in the use of which we may anticipate not only the liquidation of much indebtedness, but the stimulation of current trade.

The annual reports of the various banks throughout Canada are now being published. They savor of optimism all the way through, and, contrary to what might be generally expected in war times, business is good everywhere.

The General Manager of the Bank of Montreal at the recent annual meeting said: "The position of Canada is a highly favored one, with an assured future of growth, development and general prosperity."

In the same report it is said that the Canadian West "has recovered to a marked extent from the economic dislocation of a year ago."

The season's wheat and other cereal crops have exceeded all previous records in quantity and quality, and, despite the enormous yield, prices have been uncommonly well maintained.

It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of these results to the Prairie Provinces—and the Dominion at large.

The prosperity of those engaged in mixed farming and ranching is most encouraging.

The flour mills in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are busy and are doing well. Their combined daily capacity is about 27,000 barrels.

The large advances of the Dominion Government to farmers in certain districts, principally in the form of seed, were made very opportunely and have been amply justified by the very large crop yield in these districts.

Business in many important lines is good and should continue to improve as returns from grain yet to be marketed are received.

The general business outlook has been transformed by the large crop.

The returns of the gross earnings of Canadian railroads for November show those of the Canadian Pacific increased $1,796,000 or 78 per cent for the last nine days of the month. Compared with same month year ago, increase no less than $5,291,000 or 67.6 per cent against a 45 per cent gain in October, and a decrease of 4 1/2 per cent in September.

H. V. Meredith, of the Bank of Montreal, in a recent address delivered at Montreal, declared that the most encouraging feature from a trade and finance standpoint had been the bountiful harvest of the Northwest, where the greatly increased area under cultivation had given the highest average yield in the history of the country. He estimated the grain crop of the three provinces at a value of over $400,000,000, and said that such remarkable results would have the effect of attracting the tide of immigration to our shores, when the world is again at peace. The restoration of a favorable balance in our foreign trade is a factor of supreme importance at the present time.

It is the general opinion in the East that the 1915 grain crop in the Prairie Provinces not only put the whole Dominion in a sounder trade and financial standing, but that it will also result in a big increase in immigration to the West of agricultural settlers, who will include capitalized farmers from Europe and the United States as well as homesteaders.—Advertisement.

Lord Byron an Idol in Greece.

There is at least one Englishman for whom Greek affection has never wavered—Lord Byron. Not only is he commemorated in Greece by statues and street names, but his portrait is to be found everywhere, even in the most unlikely places. W. Miller, in his "Greek Life in Town and Country," tells how he came upon a portrait of the poet in a provincial restaurant. The moment he took notice of it "the proprietor, a stout, prosaic looking man, whom no one would have suspected of sentiment, stepped toward the picture, clasped his hands in pathetic gesture, and with a far-away look in his eyes, stood for a time in rapt admiration of the great Philhellene."

War Spares the Do Reazkes.

Jean de Reazke has written to a friend in this city he has news from his native Poland to the effect that his properties have not suffered very much from the war and in their province complete calm reigns. He says that while his brother Edmund has suffered from rheumatism he is now beginning to mend. He also wishes to thank his American friends for their interest and sympathy, and adds that he has resumed his teaching of singing in Paris.

A woman would have no use for money except for the fact that it will buy almost any old thing she sets her heart on.

Has Made Study of Volcanoes

Frank Alvord Perrot whose knowledge of volcanoes is probably unique in the world, is an American, a native of Hartford, Conn. After volcanic outbursts he has been able accurately to forecast their conduct for some time to come, and in this way his labors have been of inestimable value to residents of volcanic districts. He has visited and studied practically every volcano of note in the world. He was the first to reach Messina after the devastating earthquake in 1908. As an inventor he is also widely known. In 1904 he took up volcanology and became honorary assistant to Professor Matteucci in the Royal observatory, Mount Vesuvius, and was later decorated knight of the Italian crown.

Where Courtships Are Long.

Young ladies in Russia are not at all averse to long engagements, and use all sorts of artifices to stave off the wedding day as long as possible, but in no country in the world are courtships so abnormally long as in Bohemia, where engagements commonly last from fifteen to twenty years. In fact, there recently died there, at the age of ninety-nine, an old man who had been courting for 76 years and who was married on his death bed.

Why Red-Haireds Are Seldom Bald.

The reason why red-haired people are less subject to baldness than others is said to be this: Their hair is relatively thick, one red hair being almost as thick as five fair or three brown hairs. The consequence is that with 30,000 red hairs the scalp is well thatched; whereas with the same number of fair hairs one is comparatively bald.

Abating Smoke Nuisance.

An electrical smoke abatement device has been invented whereby the particles of soot are charged by current through fine wires in a smoke-stack until they unite and become heavy enough to fall into a receptacle.

Daily Thought.

Life, with all its fields of joy and woe, is just our chance of the prize of learning love—how love might be, hath been indeed, and is.—Browning.

His Ambition.

"While I have been cordially detested during the most of my life, with or without ample justification," stated J. Fuller Gloom. "I intend to at least not be a nuisance after death. To that end I have consistently refrained from making epigrams, manufacturing maxims and uttering sonorous sentences, to be repeated to helpless children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me."—Judge.

Abracadabra a Fever Cure.

Long before a change of climate came to be advertised as a cure for hay fever, an idea the railroads have been suspected of fostering, a simpler remedy was thought to be the word, abracadabra. This magical word was once used as a charm against ague and fevers. Its meaning is disputed. As a charm it was written to form an inverted triangle by dropping the last letter at each successive repetition.—Kansas City Times.

Economy Can't Save Him.

Economy is not much good to a man who refrains from spending money because he would rather loaf than earn it.

Cartridge Wads of Cork.

Shotgun cartridge wads made in France from granulated cork are said to lessen the recoil of guns in which they are used without impairing their efficiency.

Hops.

The estimated yield of hops is 1,042 pounds per acre for the United States against 985 pounds last year, and a ten-year average of 1,065 pounds. Hops in New York are given at 530 pounds, Washington 1,750, Oregon 950 and California 1,800, an increase over last year in all the states except Oregon, where it remained the same.

First "Push Button"

Benjamin Franklin invented the electric "push button." This was accomplished in 1761. He "shocked" the railing in front of his Philadelphia residence, finding the "jolts" of the street were too fond of entering under his window. This so alarmed them that they no longer gave the philosopher offense.

Began Stanley's Career.

David Livingstone started on his last great journey into the heart of the Dark Continent in 1866. It was not until November, 1871, that Stanley found him. Stanley's book, "How I Found Livingstone," had a most enormous sale, and his meeting with Livingstone turned Stanley from a newspaper correspondent into the most enthusiastic of African explorers.

Different Matter.

A lawyer who was sometimes forgetful, having been engaged to plead the cause of an offender, began by saying: "I know the prisoner at the bar, and he bears the character of being a most consummate and impudent scoundrel!" Here somebody whispered to him that the prisoner was his client, when he immediately continued: "But what great and good man ever lived who was not calumniated by many of his contemporaries!"—Case and Comment.

Children's First Duty.

It is the duty of children to be obedient to their parents. Of all the creatures we are acquainted with, mankind are the longest before they become capable of shifting for themselves; and it seems to be the design of Providence in keeping them so many years in a state of dependence upon their parents, to train them up to obedience.—Price.

Women's Duties.

For the women of an earlier time, their duties were not only well defined, they were unescapable. For us, they are not only rather readily escapable, they are not even defined. This is, indeed, broadly true of all things, whose entire emphasis seems to have changed. The older moralists occupied themselves with the difficulty of doing one's duty. The modern ones, if they want to hold our attention, must rather consider the preliminary difficulty of finding out what one's duty is.—Elizabeth Woodbridge in Atlantic Monthly.

Deserving His Nickname.

Her Opinion Manifest.

A rich manufacturer of asbestos took a house just across the street from a sweet-spirited old Quaker lady, and his family proceeded to enjoy themselves in what seemed to her a very worldly fashion. But the aged Quakeress was never known to speak ill of anyone; even when her neighbors played tennis on Sunday, she only said, "Dear me! they must have great faith in their asbestos."

Liberal With Their Gains.

A Spanish adventurer, returning from highly lucrative wanderings in the early day Americas, is said to have given away $600,000 in alms on the occasion of his marriage at Barcelona. Just Two Kinds of Men in the World

By J. R. HAMILTON

Former Advertising Manager of Wanamaker's, Philadelphia

Financially, there are just two kinds of men in the world; those who constantly figure upon the principal of their money and those who deal with the interest on the principal.

The one kind of man throws away ten dollars carelessly and says, "What's the difference. It is only a ten dollar bill."

The other holds on to that ten and says, "Ten dollars is the interest at 5 per cent on a capital of two hundred dollars."

One man figures on how much ten dollars will buy. The other man figures on how much it would cost him to buy ten dollars.

A difference of principal and interest—that is all.

Yet the principal figure is not the principle figurer in life. Indeed, he counts for very little except when he is spending that ten. No one comes to him with opportunities. No one considers him as a possible investor in anything good. Money always passes him quietly by.

And yet this is all a simple habit of mind. The difference between financial success and financial failure is only a little trick of the brain.

And the habit of figuring interest—the habit of figuring every dollar you spend as the interest on twenty times that amount at five per cent, is very easily learned.

Try it now in the personal things you are going out to buy. If you need a suit of clothes, look through the advertising in this paper. See where you can save five dollars, and then say to yourself, "I am not merely saving five dollars by buying a suit of clothes from this advertisement; I am saving the amount which one hundred dollars would earn if it worked at five per cent interest for a whole year."

That's the thing that brings you to your muttons. That's the thing that makes you stop and think.

Now these good sales are going on all through this paper. You can save money on anything you buy. Your clothes, your shoes, your shirts, your household goods—all offer money-saving opportunities in these sales.

Why, you can save the interest on at least five hundred dollars if you will only go at it right. And show me the man to whom five hundred dollars is not a capital worth considering?

Interest—that is the thing to figure on always. And the way to save the interest on a lot of money is to watch the advertising in this paper day by day and do your buying from these sales.

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "Fruit Laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Adv.

If the wife would practice all her husband preaches there would be fewer grounds for divorce.

Stop That Ache!

Don't worry along with a bad back. Get rid of it. It's a sign you haven't taken care of yourself. You haven't had enough air, exercise and sleep. Probably this has upset your kidneys. Get back to sensible habits, and give the kidneys help. Then, if it's kidney backache, the dizziness, lameness and tiredness will disappear. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the best recommended kidney remedy.

An Iowa Case
"Every Picture Tells a Story"
Mrs. M. Clinker, N. State St., Tama, Iowa, says: "My back was so aching and painful and the pains extended up into my arms and shoulders. I had to have help in getting up, and my back was so lame and stiff I could hardly dress. Doan's Kidney Pills acted so wonderfully, that I am now fully restored to good health. The cure has lasted."

The HOME BEAUTIFUL

Flowers and Shrubbages - Their Care and Cultivation

When You Study Your Catalogues Do Not Overlook the Orchid.

STUDY THE CATALOGUES

By LIMA R. ROSE.

When looking over the catalogues which come to us for the asking we are often delighted into covetousness by the description of shrubs, vines and perennials, but the price asked, although merely nominal, places the florist's plants beyond our reach.

In that case, we have but to give a little time and patience to sowing seeds and caring for the delicate plants in order to have our longings gratified. The first thing to do is to send our order to a reliable firm. The next is to give intelligent care to their planting and growing.

Seeds of most of the desirable ornamental vines, shrubs, biennials and perennials germinate readily, while others are slow in sprouting, but if planted in good soil and allowed time the reward is sure.

We should inform ourselves on these subjects as much as possible before undertaking the work.

During February and March is usually the time selected for getting our window boxes in shape, and in these boxes may be planted the seeds, together with many bulbous and tuberous rooted varieties of plants. The seeds may be had in mixed packages for ten cents each, or single.

Do not overlook the orchid when planning next year's flowers.

These seeds may be purchased by one person, the plants raised to transplanting size and sold for a few cents each to others, thus covering cost of seeds and care, or several may "throw in" and divide the seeds when they come.

The former plan may be the more economical, as not everyone makes a success of growing plants from seeds.

It is not always well to buy your seeds of your country merchant; your merchant may not be honest, but his merchant may not be. Send to a reliable firm, send early and get what you pay for. Do not confine yourself to annuals, but sow the perennial seeds and after the first year you will have little trouble.

Nothing adds to the attractiveness of a home place more than thrifty vines, and for most places, perennial vines are best. For temporary screens, annual vines will do. Seeds should be started indoors early and transplanted frequently in order to make the plants sturdy, and as soon as the ground gets warm they may be set out where they are to remain.

Many of these will grow but little at the top for the first year, but will be making root growth and be getting ready to make to progress afterwards.

Some of the shrubs and perennials, and even the biennials may give a scant bloom the first year, and some

may wait for the first flowering for the third year.

If these are transplanted to the vegetable garden, which is, or should be protected from the poultry and animals, and allowed to grow undisturbed for the first season, much will be gained. They can then be set where they are to remain, either next fall or the coming spring, early enough to get a good start in growth, before hot, dry weather comes.

For those who have nothing started and little money to buy with, the "collections" sent out by florists are full of promise. Many of our best seedmen advertise this collection at a very low cost to the customer, as trial orders, hoping to keep the customer by sending out good seeds and plants.

See that you get the trial collection of a reliable firm; otherwise it is money thrown away.

Study the catalogues, especially the directions for preparing soil and planting seeds. A good floral magazine is worth taking and they come now at a very low cost.

When your plants come up, refer to the description and magazine and give them the botanical name; it is just as easy as using a nickname.

Do not try to raise fruits, flowers, or vegetables in a happy-go-lucky style; give time and thought to the planting, placing and after culture, if you would reap a worthy reward.

You must pay a price for everything worth having, whether the price be money or intelligent care.

BEAUTY OF THE HYDRANGEA

By LIMA R. ROSE.

Inquiries have come in about good fall flowering shrubs. It is likely if a vote were taken for the best late flowering, hardy shrub the honor would fall to the Hydrangea.

While there are shrubs that I like better, this one seems to suit the masses. It has the merit of extreme hardiness, easy culture, great floriferousness, late blooming and persistent.

Its flowers lose their early whiteness as the season advances, but in their pinky-brown stage they are not without attractiveness, and even after snow comes they afford pleasing effects when seen against a background of pure white.

In planting the Hydrangea I would never advise using it singly. It is vastly more effective when grouped. By this means we secure for it a strength and dignity which single specimens never have.

The enormous heads of the bloom have considerable weight, but they are all the more attractive when they cause the branches to take on a graceful curve.

COUPLE FURNISH HOME, THEN ELOPE

Miss Driggs and Frederick W. De Martin Defeat Parental Opposition to Marriage.

Winsted, Conn.—Unknown to her parents Miss Edna B. Driggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driggs, highly respected citizens of New Hartford, and Frederick W. De Martin, a drug clerk, also of New Hartford, furnished a cozy home in that village before they eloped by automobile to New Haven, where they were married by Rev. W. T. Hill, Methodist clergyman. Having returned from their wedding trip they are comfortably settled in their own home, although both have been forgiven by the bride's parents.

Because of family objections to the union the couple had promised to defer their marriage one month. At the end of that time the objections were seemingly as strong as ever, so they concluded to furnish a home for themselves before running away and getting married. They took their landlord into their confidence, also merchants of whom they bought household furnishings, and the villagers soon began to ask each other who was to occupy the newly furnished Thibault house, on the bank of the Farmington river.

Early in the week Miss Driggs, who is twenty-three years old, went to Unioville to visit relatives. De Martin met her by appointment with an automobile at Burlington when she was ostensibly returning to her home and together they motored to New Haven, where he had made all plans for the marriage.

Following the ceremony they telephoned the news to their respective homes and the New Hartford public soon learned who was to occupy the newly furnished Thibault house.

Mr. De Martin is about twenty-eight years old.

YOUTH GROWLS LIKE A DOG

Unusual Affliction of Young Man in Indiana Is Puzzle to Local Doctors.

Lafayette, Ind.—Local physicians are confronted with one of the most puzzling cases that has ever developed in Tippecanoe county. Alfred Nobles, age twenty-two, two weeks ago seemingly lost all human sense, and instead developed the instinct of a mad dog.

He fell to his hands and knees and growled and barked like a dog, and bit everything that he came in contact with.

He bit on the legs of tables, tore up paper with his teeth and did many other strange things.

After a battle the police succeeded in overpowering him and he is now in a strait-jacket at the county jail. Ten physicians have examined him, but none would say he was afflicted with hydrophobia. He has rational moments and talks.

NEEDLE BOTHERED HER SOME

Enters Palm of Woman's Hand and Works Way to Shoulder in Two Years.

Philadelphia.—After working its way along the arm of Mrs. A. Greenfield, a needle, which entered the palm of her hand two years ago, was extracted from her shoulder recently in the Children's Homeopathic hospital.

In August, 1913, Mrs. Greenfield was working her sewing machine, when the needle was thrust into her hand, becoming embedded in the flesh.

At the time her doctor advised her to have an X-ray used, so as to prevent the needle from working its way to her heart. She neglected it, however, and did not feel any pain until a few days ago, when her shoulder became sore. She went to the hospital and the doctors found the needle several inches under her skin, close to the shoulder joint.

How to avoid Operation

These Three Women Tell How They Escaped the Dreadful Order Surgical Operations.

Hospitals are great and necessary institutions, but they should be the last resort for women who suffer with ill peculiar to their sex. Many letters on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., prove that a great number of women after they have been recommended to submit to an operation have been made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here are three such letters. All sick women should read them.

Marinette, Wis.—"I went to the doctor and he told me I must have an operation for a female trouble, and I hated to have it done as I had been married only a short time. I would have terrible pains and my hands and feet were cold all the time. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was cured, and I feel better in every way. I give you permission to publish my name because I am so thankful that I feel well again."
—Mrs. Fred Bennke, Marinette, Wis.

Detroit, Mich.—"When I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was so run down with female troubles that I could not do anything, and our doctor said I would have to undergo an operation. I could hardly walk without help so when I read about the Vegetable Compound and what it had done for others I thought I would try it. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and used them according to directions. They helped me and today I am able to do all my work and I am well."
—Mrs. Thos. Dwyer, 989 Milwaukee Ave., East Detroit, Mich.

Bellevue, Pa.—"I suffered more than tongue can tell with terrible bearing down pains and inflammation. I tried several doctors and they all told me the same story, that I never could get well without an operation and I just dreaded the thought of that. I also tried a good many other medicines that were recommended to me and none of them helped me until a friend advised me to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. The first bottle helped, I kept taking it and now I don't know what it is to be sick any more and I am picking up in weight. I am 20 years old and weigh 145 pounds. It will be the greatest pleasure to me if I can have the opportunity to recommend it to any other suffering woman."—Miss Irene Fraeichner, 1223 Manhattan St., North Side, Bellevue, Pa.

NEW TREATMENT FOR SWOLLEN VEINS

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to use a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil. (Full strength) at any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and banches at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil; it is used in hospital practice and small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated. Apply at night and morning with the soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

It is so marvelously powerful that swollen glands, and even goiters disappear when used steadily.

A New Remedy for Kidney, Bladder and all Uric Acid Troubles

Dr. Eberle and Dr. Brathwaite as well as Dr. Simon—all distinguished Authors—agree that whatever may be the disease, the uric acid falls in furnishing us with a clue to the principle upon which it is to be treated, and accurate knowledge concerning the nature of disease can thus be obtained. If backache, scalding urine or frequent urination bother or distress you, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, gout or sciatica or you suspect kidney or bladder trouble just write Dr. Pierce at the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.; send a sample of urine and describe symptoms. You will receive free medical advice after Dr. Pierce's chemist has examined the urine—this will be carefully done without charge, and you will be under no obligation. Dr. Pierce during many years of experimentation has discovered a new remedy which is thirty-seven times more powerful than lithia in removing uric acid from the system. If you are suffering from backache or the pains of rheumatism, go to your best druggist and ask for a 50 cent box of "Anuric" put up by Doctor Pierce, or send 10c for a large trial pack. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the blood have been favorably known for the past forty years and more. They are standard remedial to-day—as well as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels. You can have a sample of any one of these remedies by writing Dr. Pierce, and sending 10c for trial package.

HANDICRAFT FOR GIRLS

A JAPANESE GARDEN.

Do you own a Japanese garden? If not, you should get one right away, because it is the latest fad to have one.

First of all, you will need a shallow baking pan in which to plant the garden. This may be round or square.

For soil you must have sand, and you must also have some coarse pebbles or pieces of broken stone. This can be had for the asking some place where a building is in course of construction.

Half a panful of sand and several handfuls of pebbles will be enough. In addition, you must buy some bird seed or Japanese grass seed to plant in the soil. The rest of the garden material can be picked up at home.

There are any number of arrangements for the garden that can be worked out, and you can replant your garden from time to time to make it different.

Fig. 1 shows a good plan to follow for your first one. Pile up the sand around the sides of the pan, forming hills and hollows, and leave an irregular-shaped space in the center, and extending over to one side of the pan, for a pond.

Make a shore line of pebbles around the pond, and scatter other pebbles here and there over the sand.

One of the hills must be selected as a site for a little Japanese house. This house may be made of cardboard.

Fig. 2 shows patterns for the walls. The dotted lines indicate where the places are to be folded. The strips used or Japanese grass seed to plant in the soil. The rest of the garden material can be picked up at home.

Obituaries

Anna Marie Kennedy was born in the State of Wisconsin near Trevor on Nov. 17, 1853, and was called from her earthly labors on 1915, Christmas morn, at 7 o'clock.

She was the daughter of Thomas and Anna Udell, and was given by them in marriage to Elbert A. Kennedy on Jan. 14, 1879. There were four children—Jennie Laura, Nellie, Carrie now wife of Clifton Shottliff and Lela, Emily and Leen who died in early childhood. Besides her husband and three children she is survived by her sister, Mrs. Geo. Faulkner of Wilmot and a brother, T. C. Udell of Glassford, Ill.

That she was held in high esteem was evidenced by the beautiful floral tributes sent in remembrance by relatives, out-of-town friends, and immediate neighbors, also by the large crowd that came to pay their last respects to their relative, friend, and neighbor and to escort her body to the Liberty Corners Congregational church (her place of worship) where the last rites of Christian burial were administered. Mrs. Kennedy had been a faithful member in good standing since April 1904; for this service the church did not hold the crowd. The ladies quartette of Wilmot sang the favorite songs of Mrs. Kennedy. She was a member of the Court of Honor of Antioch.

Gone dear mother, gone forever, We miss thee from thy place; A shadow over our life is cast, We miss the sunshine of thy face.

Thou'rt gone, you're not forgotten, Never shall our memory fade, Loving hearts will often linger 'Round the grave where you are laid.

But we know that you are happy, In the mansions of the blest, Where there is no pain or sorrow, In one sweet eternal rest.

Fare-thee-well our own dear mother, Till in that land we meet once more, When in his love our Father calls us, To that bright and joyful shore, Where there is no parting never more.

Card of Thanks

To all who contributed of their labor and loving sympathy in our bereavement, we desire to offer appreciative thanks. To those who remembered us with beautiful floral offerings; to those who so graciously tendered us the use of their automobiles for the occasion; and to the Ladies Quartet of Wilmot we owe our lasting gratitude.

One of the saddest funeral services held in many a day in Salem Town was that of Mae Belle Schreck, wife of Fred Schreck and sister of Mrs. C. Higgins. She was the daughter of Lathrop and Emma Udell and was married in holy matrimony May 17, 1904.

One of the many compliments to the memory of this estimable and mother, was that "she was a devoted mother" spending herself in devotion to her husband and children.

The floral tributes were many beautiful, showing the high esteem in which she was held. The sympathy of the entire community, tendered to Mr. Schreck and his daughter Flossie and sons Kerwin and Alvin, their bereavement.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express through columns our heartfelt thanks to those who made our sadness the lighter by their loving helpfulness, and wish to thank our friends who contributed their autos for the occasion.
